LAMPseq is in the final of the 'BioRiver Boost! Awards'

For the 8th time, BioRiver e.V., the largest industry association of the biotech and life science industry in North Rhine-Westphalia is organizing the "BioRiver Boost! Award". The best and most innovative start-ups in the life science and biotechnology industry. The participants in the competition are judged primarily on the criteria of product and customer benefit, technology, market potential, team, advisory board, successes and financing concept. The newly founded LAMPseq Diagnostics GmbH was successful in the first round and made it to the short and made it onto the shortlist for the prestigious award.

In the final on 10.01.2021, LAMPseq will now compete with seven other start-ups for the "BioRiver Boost! Award." The jury of the competition consists of the Who's Who of the German biotech industry. Among others, Bayer, QIAGEN, Johnson&Johnson, MiltenyiBiotec, but also High-Tech Gründerfonds and NRW.Bank are represented. Gründerfonds and the NRW.Bank are represented.
